Ten Attorneys from Solomon Dwiggin & Freer Named Mountain State Super Lawyers
Las Vegas-based firm announces record number of honorees

LAS VEGAS – (June 1, 2017) Solomon Dwiggin & Freer, Ltd., a Las Vegas-based boutique law firm dedicated to trust and estate law, announced today that an unprecedented total of 10 lawyers from the firm have been named to the 2017 list of Mountain States Super Lawyers, a renowned ranking of outstanding attorneys across the region. Less than 5 percent of lawyers in the state of Nevada receive this distinction.

Firm founders Mark A. Solomon, Dana A. Dwiggin and Alan D. Freer were each honored for the third consecutive year. In addition, the following Solomon Dwiggin & Freer attorneys were named Super Lawyers 2017 Rising Stars: Jordanna L. Evans, Ross E. Evans, Joshua M. Hood, Alexander G. Leveque, Jeffrey P. Luszeck, Brian K. Steadman and Jeremy M. Welland.

Candidates for the Rising Stars list must be 40 years old or younger or in practice for 10 years or less. While up to 5 percent of lawyers in the state may be included on the Super Lawyers list, no more than 2.5 percent are named to the Rising Stars list.

“What an honor it is to have so many of our firm’s attorneys—those established as well as those at the beginning of their careers—named to the Mountain States Super Lawyers list,” said Dana Dwiggin, the firm’s managing partner. “To be recognized in the company of so many other outstanding law firms is a testament to the high level of service our attorneys provide in handling our client’s personal affairs with the utmost care, respect and understanding.”

A Thomson Reuters rating service, the Mountain States Super Lawyers ranking includes attorneys from Nevada, Utah, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming. Super Lawyers follows a stringent, multiphase, attorney-led selection process
